

Terms and conditions 2022

Additional terms for Atea Denmark Global Deliveries

The following terms are additional to Atea's general terms and conditions when the deliveries are global deliveries.

1. Standard delivery

Goods will be delivered DAP (Delivered At Place) according to Incoterms 2020, which is standard Incoterms for global deliveries. Atea pays for carriage to the named place, except for costs related to import clearance. Atea also assumes all risks prior to the point when the goods are ready for unloading by the buyer. The total cost for freight is debited on the same invoice as hardware and related services.

Customer is responsible for handling customs clearance and all payments regarding import duties and taxes, as well as all other import related costs.

2. Licenses and authorizations

Customer is responsible for any and all necessary import licenses/authorizations, hereunder the procuring of all documents necessary to support and assure that the import declaration is authentic.

Atea is responsible for any and all necessary export licenses/authorizations, hereunder the procuring of all necessary certificates.

Atea is also responsible for the process of exporting goods classified as "dual use" (goods, software and technology able to be used for both civilian and military applications). However, by the request of Atea, Customer is obligated to provide signed End User Statement.

A shipping invoice must follow the goods. Atea is responsible for providing the shipping invoice. By the request of Atea, customer is obligated to provide any relevant shipping information as well as stating a contact person at delivery site.

3. Guarantees

Customer guarantees, that:
